As July begins and the Fall Food Runs are quickly approaching, I find myself marveling at the incredible amount of hard work that our warehouse volunteers give to support the Elders. For many sponsors who live around the country, and some who live around the globe, the newsletter arrives with pictures of the Elders, stories from our visits to the land. It is also a reminder that it is time to order food boxes, food certificates, and firewood to help their Elder survive the coming winter. Too often, these stories arrive in mailboxes around the world without recognition for the volunteers who so generously give their time and energy in the warehouse.

This year A.N.E. will distribute more than 325,000 pounds of assistance to more than 650 Elders. Every single pound of assistance that we distribute is unloaded by hand, organized, lovingly packed, and boxed by our Salt Lake City based volunteers. who in 2018 donated more than 10,000 man hours of service in the warehouse, on Food Runs, and at events. A.N.E. has a very small and very hardworking staff, but our work is meaningless without the dedication, care and love for the Elders that our volunteers give every week at the warehouse.

Our tireless warehouse volunteers work from January to April to pack all the Spring Food Run boxes, then work from May to September to pack all the Fall Food Run boxes. During October and November, they help organize all our Rug Show displays and materials, as well as packing hundreds of Christmas stockings that are delivered to Reservation schools in December.

When I first started volunteering with A.N.E. in 2009 on the Many Farms Food Run, I was stunned to find myself surrounded by so many kind and good hearted people who willingly gave a week of their lives to support the Elders. When I joined ANE, working in the warehouse, I could not believe the sheer amount of work and logistics that it takes to create all the food boxes, giveaways, and boxes of medical supplies that are distributed on Food Runs. I could never have predicted the effect that serving the Elders would have on my life, but equally unpredictable is the effect that working alongside such amazing, caring, dedicated, and hardworking people would have on me. I cannot describe the joy and happiness that sharing time and space with our community of volunteers has given me, to be part of such a unique and diverse group of people is an honor that I never expected to receive.

As A.N.E. continues to grow both in the number of Elders we support, and the amount of assistance that we are able to distribute, it is important to recognize the immeasurable contribution that our warehouse volunteers make. Their dedication and work has touched so many lives in times of need. Our volunteers are the life blood of the Adopt-A-Native-Elder Program, they are our heart and soul and it is a pleasure to work alongside them on this journey to support the Elders.

Thank you all!

C.J. Robb

Over 300 Handmade Stockings

Adopt-A-Native-Elder has our very own Santa this year. Debbie Jo Kiefer from Escondido, California took stock of her large collection of fabric and craft material and decided to put it to good use by hand making hundreds of beautiful Christmas stockings for Navajo children.

“I’m thrilled to be a part of this giving and caring event,” says Debbie Jo. “Each stocking is a labor of love.”

Every stocking is unique and beautifully crafted. The children will be thrilled to receive this wonderful surprise.

Thank you to everyone who takes the time and care to send us stockings and stocking stuffers. You help to make the holidays special for many children in need.
Your donation of firewood helps keep the Elders warm

As the Fall approaches, many Elders will need firewood. In several areas, local tribal chapters are willing to help us see that Elders in need get the firewood. Many of the Elders depend on the wood for cooking and staying warm in the winter.

Each truckload of firewood costs $100.00. Prices are the best in the early Fall. By late Fall the prices can be more than $120.00 a load. Most of the Elders use firewood October through April. A truckload of wood can last a family 3-6 weeks.

PLEASE NOTE—All Fall Firewood Orders will be given at the FALL FOOD RUN.

If you would like to make a donation for your Elder, please use the support for your Elder order form on page 14 or order online: www.AnElder.org. For a donation to help an Elder in need, please use the “Forgotten Ones” section of the form on page 14.

When we provide the Elders with yarn for weaving, they can sell or trade their rugs for their needs

Weaving reinforces their culture and helps to preserve the tradition in Navajo families. Yarn boxes can be ordered at any time for your Elder or be gifted to the Program which will find a weaver on your behalf.

We have chosen the color combinations the weavers most often request. Each box will contain six skeins of wool and one warp which will weave a two foot by three foot rug. The cost for each yarn box is $40 which includes shipping and insurance. If you are ordering more than one box, we recommend that you order at least two of the same color. This will allow the Elder to weave a larger rug. Each box can be ordered in one of the color combinations below.

- Chief: Grey heather, onyx, white frost, ruby red, and blue flannel colors of yarn
- Crystal: Oatmeal, roasted coffee, Turkish olive, bronze patina, and crème colors of yarn
- Ganado: Deep heather, onyx, white frost, ruby red, and grey heather colors of yarn
- Greyhills: Charcoal heather, sable brown, crème, roasted coffee, and oatmeal colors of yarn
- Old Style: Deep charcoal, sable brown, crème, sunburst gold, and oatmeal colors of yarn
- Traditional: Charcoal heather, onyx, white frost, medieval red, and grey heather colors of yarn

On June 15th Santa Fe long-time supporter Sharon Lewis organized a very successful outreach event at the beautiful Wheelwright Museum of the American Indian in Santa Fe, New Mexico.

A.N.E. supporters Allen Lewis, Minerva Paez, Janet & Dave Reffert, Bettina France, Jan & Richard Gill, and Charlotte Jusinski also assisted with the event. Linda Myers, CJ Robb, Rodger Williams, and Ashley Lopez traveled from Salt Lake City and Alice Runninghawk traveled from the reservation to present at the show.

Linda Myers talks about the ceremonial significance of a beautiful rug by Nellie Curley.

Alice Runninghawk, Sharon Lewis, and Manerva Paez. Minerva kindly offered her beautiful restaurant, Casa Chimayo, as a meet and greet the night before.

Alice’s presentation was well received. The attendees loved her enthusiasm and knowledge of weaving. They also commented on how engaging she made the information with the incorporation of her family and personal life.

Bettina France, Jan Gill, Ashley Lopez, and Sharon Lewis at the jewelry table. A total of 33 rugs were sold. Rug and jewelry sales totaled $25,000.

Assistant Director CJ Robb gave a powerful overview of the organization. Very positive feedback was given as the event generated new supporters and interest in the program.

Forgotten Blankets may be ordered for the Fall Food Run

The program has purchased new blankets in five native designs. These can be purchased for your Elders for the Fall Food Run under “Forgotten Blanket”. You may purchase one for your Elder or one for a Forgotten Elder as a donation.

The blankets are twin size and are very warm. Because the Elders seem to always be cold, they are very happy when they receive a new blanket.

You might also consider gifting a blanket to an Elder in honor of someone’s birthday or anniversary, or maybe as a memorial or honor for a friend or family member.

Include the name of the person you wish to honor and we’ll send you a gift card telling them a blanket was given to a Navajo Elder on their behalf. If we send the card directly, we’ll need their address as well.

HONORINGS
Grace Brandt made a donation in honor of Jill Smith’s 70th birthday

Cyndi Schwandt was just a few weeks away from turning 69 on July 11th when she died Monday, June 10th doing what she loved best, riding her bike on the trails in Park City. It was especially fitting that these were the very trails she pioneered to help create over the last 40 years, in the heart of the community she called home.

Cyndi met Linda Myers 30 years ago when Linda was packing food boxes in her driveway and Cyndi stopped by, mistaking the boxes for a yard sale. Cyndi became a loyal volunteer over the years attending many Food Runs and volunteering for the annual Rug Show.

Cyndi was a force to be reckoned with, characterized by a quiet presence and unapologetic approach to life. The impact Cyndi made on the community will be forever remembered. Whether it was through her involvement as a Mountain Trails Ambassador, passion for the Adopt-A-Native Elder Program, or utilizing her masters degree in horticulture at Summit Community Garden, her love for Park City was apparent in her varied activities and avid volunteerism. She created a family that will miss her forever.

The Weavers’ Stories

2017 CNN Hero and Founder of Adopt-A-Native-Elder, Linda Myers, speaks on her unique 30-year experience of serving traditional Elders living on the Navajo Reservation. Ms. Myers will share personal stories of the women who rely on weaving as a powerful tool in their fight against poverty. Elderly Navajo often struggle living on their own in very remote areas of the reservation. Most of the traditional weavers are over 80 years old.

This is a wonderful opportunity to:
- Hear stories about Navajo weavers’ lives and their rugs.
- Gain knowledge of the spiritual significance of the different rug designs.
- Discover how traditional weavers use natural dye processes from plant sources like roots, berries, and bark.
- Learn about the current conditions facing Navajo Elders.

Authentic Navajo Rugs and Jewelry available for purchase.
100% rug purchase proceeds go directly to the weaver. For many, this is their sole means of support.
